

What we do

Family Entertainment Focus

Lunar 22 develops, finances, and manages family entertainment IP across the full lifecycle—from concept and development to production, distribution, and franchise management. Our family animations are designed for television, streaming, digital, and consumer products, with a specific focus on repeat engagement and cross-platform visibility. The company collaborates with broadcasters, streamers, brand owners, and regional partners to structure content and rights in a way that maximizes long-term commercial value.

Our core activities include End-to-End IP development—from concept origination and worldbuilding through to production, music integration, and franchise planning—ensuring every property is structured with clear pathways for growth. We prioritize Family-Friendly Storytelling anchored in positive values, aspirational characters, and compelling, age-appropriate narratives that connect with children while remaining accessible and appealing to parents and caregivers.

By combining creative excellence with disciplined franchise strategy, Lunar 22 delivers content that is safe, inclusive, and globally relevant, while also being commercially robust. This integrated approach allows us to develop family entertainment brands that build trust with audiences, strengthen long-term audience relationships, and create enduring value for partners, licensees, and platforms worldwide.
