

Global Production Team

By combining legacy expertise in global franchises with on-the-ground partnerships in key growth markets, Lunar 22 can structure productions that balance creative ambition with cost efficiency and local relevance.

World Focused

Lunar 22 is supported by a global production team with deep expertise across the full entertainment value chain, from development and pre production through delivery and franchise management. Our executives, producers, writers, directors, and music partners have contributed to some of the most recognizable family entertainment brands worldwide, bringing decades of experience in animation, live action, and music-driven storytelling. Operating across multiple territories and time zones, the team is structured to service international partners, navigate regional requirements, and deliver content that meets the technical, cultural, and compliance standards of leading broadcasters, streamers, and licensees. This global footprint enables Lunar 22 to efficiently scale productions, leverage best-in-class talent and facilities in key markets, and consistently deliver high quality family entertainment ready for worldwide distribution.
